Jenny Meade, Staff Support Services Manager

Background

NOONAN is the market-leading supplier of facility services to companies operating in the Republic of Ireland, Northern Ireland and the UK.

Their reputation as market leader is well-earned - based on over three decades of consistent growth and a client base that now exceeds over 1500 in total among them many of the best-known names in the world of business.

From its origins in contract cleaning and contract security services, their diversification over recent years now enables NOONAN to deliver a wide range of integrated facility services to current and future clients.

NOONAN currently employs over 6500 employees across 3000 sites around Ireland, Northern Ireland and the UK. NOONAN has chosen Intelligo’s leading corporate Payroll software, Megapay to manage the Payroll function.

Working with Intelligo

According to Jenny Meade, Staff Support Services Manager for NOONAN, “I have been working with NOONAN and Megapay for the last 14 years, Megapay has always addressed all of my payroll needs and certainly meets the payroll requirements for NOONAN.

We implemented our own electronic timesheets back in 2006 which Intelligo’s development team designed for us; it was all linked back to our Megapay system and has always worked very well for our needs, saving the payroll department huge amounts of time and money.”

Improving Efficiency

“The late payment calculation and the mid-month ETP payment facility has also helped to reduce our administration burden and free time to spent on other areas within the payroll department,” added Jenny.

“This function has meant we no longer have to manually calculate wages when employees are left short and issue cheques.”

Meeting our Business Needs

In addition, the online timesheets dynamic link in to Megapay, flexibility and support are the main features of Megapay that NOONAN’s consider to be of key benefits for their payroll department.
